Students are admitted to UCSC with a “proposed major” in most cases, and later petition to officially declare the major. Admission to UCSC does not guarantee acceptance into a particular major. Junior transfer students must be officially declared in a major by the deadline in their second quarter of enrollment.

GERMAN STUDIES

Transfer students are advised to complete at least one — and preferably two — full years of college-level German language at their previous institution. German 5 is a prerequisite for all upper-division courses taught in German and for the German Studies major. Students with prior instruction in German language are encouraged to take a placement exam to determine which class best suits their skill level.

Students with prior instruction in German language should attend the German Placement Interviews before the fall quarter begins.

At this early stage in their degree progress, students are encouraged to enroll in any upper division (100 - 189) German studies courses that look interesting to them. The German studies curriculum can be found on the German studies website.

The German studies program is administered by the History Department.
