x Advising Objectives:
- Develop an effective, collaborative advising relationship with you
- Guide you to identify and explore academic interests and capabilities
- Help you assess progress towards your degree, including academic record and campus policies
- Provide you with support for a successful transition to the university
- Advise you with appreciation for and awareness of individual differences
- Help you identify and integrate resources offered by the university
- Facilitate retention and timely graduation
- Encourage a rewarding educational experience at UCSC

x Advising Roles and Expectations:

Student
- Schedule appointments with advisers as needed
- Become knowledgeable about deadlines, college programs, degree requirements, policies and procedures
- Be proactive in keeping track of your academic progress by checking your portal on my.ucsc.edu quarterly
- Take ownership for your educational progress and goals
- Meet with an adviser at least once in your first year, and update your proposed major

Adviser
- Provide accurate and personalized academic information
- Understand and effectively communicate curriculum, requirements, and academic policies and procedures
- Be accessible for meetings during office hours, by appointment, telephone or e-mail
- Maintain confidentiality
It is hard to imagine any academic support function that is more important to student success and institutional productivity than advising.”
