

Students are admitted to UCSC with a "proposed major" in most cases, and later petition to officially declare the major. Admission to UCSC does not guarantee acceptance into a particular major. Junior transfer students must be officially declared in a major by the deadline in their second quarter of enrollment.

Major: COMMUNITY STUDIES

Qualification requirements and/or prerequisites for the major:

Students must complete both CMMU 10: Introduction to Community Activism (only offered in the fall quarter), and one topical course (see the Community Studies website) to declare the major.

Transfer students who intend to pursue this major should do the following prior to the beginning of their first term...

- ❑ Students who have taken college-level transferable classes that may apply to the requirements of this major should submit an unofficial transcript to the Community Studies Adviser prior to July 1. This transcript is in addition to the official transcript that is required by the UCSC Admissions Office.
- ❑ Please contact the Community Studies Adviser prior to the beginning of your first quarter at UCSC to work out an academic plan that will allow you to graduate on time.

...and should take these courses their first term:

CMMU 10: Introduction to Community Activism (only offered in the fall quarter), and a topical course (list available on Community Studies website) Contact the major adviser at 831-459-2371.

Skills important for success in this major:

Both critical reading skills and strong analytical writing ability are important to the success of students in the Community Studies major.

Although not required for the major, students in this major might benefit from these courses/ subjects:

Students may take classes that offer background in their intended area of focus (economic justice and/or health justice); look in Sociology, Anthropology, Psychology, Politics, Latin American and Latino Studies, Economics, or History.

Other information:

The Community Studies program can easily accommodate students who transfer to UCSC for the fall quarter. The major requires a two-quarter field study, and includes concentrations in economic justice and/or health justice.
